

David C. Lewis, Chairman and CEO, Energy Capital Vietnam

David Lewis has spent 21 years focused on energy, government, and global security issues with a concentration on strategy development, risk management and value creation. Mr. Lewis founded Energy Capital Vietnam in 2015 to create an investment platform for responsible energy development to improve energy security in Vietnam. He previously co-founded an upstream oil and gas company that originated $200 million in mergers and acquisitions where he focused on strategy and operations. He was selected to advise Marathon Oil Company on improving operational efficiency across $4 billion in upstream assets. Prior to working in the energy industry, he developed $100 million in US Federal Government commercial real estate contracts nationwide. Mr. Lewis acquired Capitol Hill experience in the US Senate where he worked on national security and defense issues. He is a former Marine Corps Infantry Officer and Purple Heart recipient and was twice recognized for combat valor. He holds a BBA in Management from Texas A&M University and is a married father of one.